

Now that God's existence as Designer of the universe is well confirmed, a fact to which the various presentations on this website testify, the first question one may naturally ask is about the characteristics of the Ultimate Origin of all existence

In this respect it is absolutely clear that the cosmos was made by a Loving Creator, what may be easily recognized when considering the centrality of Heart and Love in people's life. Everybody longs deep inside for peace and lasting happiness, which can only be gained based on developing loving relationships

Historically, Judaism is the first religion that emphasized Monotheism, affirming the existence of one good God already thousands of years ago, deserves our sincere appreciation for their valuable contributions over the centuries to the development of Western culture

Likewise other religions like Hinduism, Buddhism and Confucianism have offered precious insights to countless believers, helping them to become more loving and compassionate, raising their internal standard and consciousness

Among the many qualities that religious people emphasize, expressed in a multitude of names that have been given to the Ultimate Cause who created the universe, True Love is the highest and most important characteristic of our Creator, arising from the profound Heart of our Eternal Parent

Because the cosmos was designed for the purpose of the establishment of the ideal of a loving world where all people care deeply for one another, it is our fundamental nature to express a kind Heart to our fellow human beings as well as towards the natural world

As we are made in the image of God we should likewise be loving creators who invest our sincerest Heart into everything that we are doing. We can gain a lot of inspiration from the natural world concerning the many ways how Love and beauty may be manifested

This is our essential nature: We are created in order to love and to be loved, to live in the precious realm of True Love

There is nothing more important and central in life than sharing from one's Heart and building relationships which bring overflowing joy and happiness into the lives of all people. Each and every human being is destined to become a mature individual truth body with a loving Heart which is capable of expressing unconditional Love in uniquely personal ways

Just as we breathe the air which provides oxygen for our body we should be able to breathe the air of Love 24 hours a day. We are created in order to live in God's presence, to be one with our Loving Creator based on having become the embodiment of True Love

True Love transcends time and space and accordingly we are created to love eternally on ever higher and deeper levels
